1.1 Revision History

Publicatieversie 1.0 (01-09-2020)

1.2 Concept

A treatment directive contains a joint decision between a health professional (for example a general practitioner) and a patient or his representative(s) about the desirability of performing a certain treatment, such as resuscitation, before this treatment becomes (acute) necessary.

When the need arises and the treatment cannot be discussed with the patient or representative, a treatment limit decision is an important indication for the treating health professional (for example an ER doctor). The term treatment limit is a synonym of the term treatment directive.

1.3 Mindmap

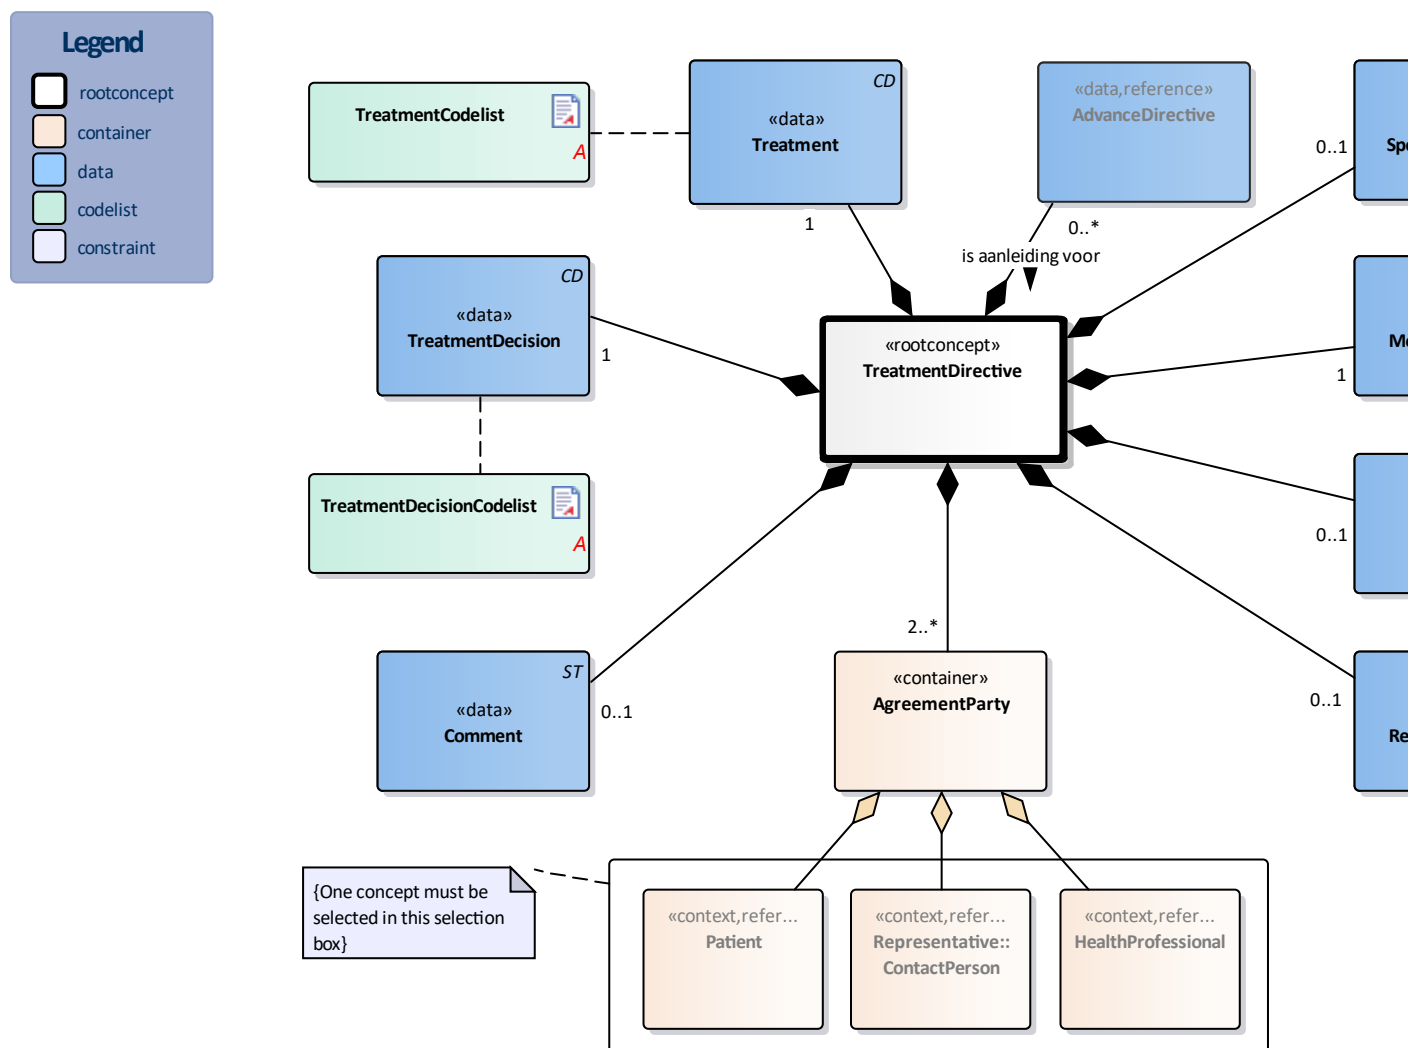

1.5 Patient Population

1.6 Evidence Base

Explanation for TreatmentCodeList:

In discussions on constraints in the therapeutic treatment of patients with a chronic neurological or respiratory condition, respiration is sometimes included as a separate restriction. The 'Respiration' concept can be seen separately from the decisions on CPR.
